Context

Together with the modern society, the labour market and its requirements on young people are changing rapidly. Young people are confronted with different structures than a few years ago, and they must react immediately to unexpected changes. Thus, sense of initiative and entrepreneurial skills are becoming more and more important.

The training course addresses the question of youth entrepreneurship and approach towards it: it introduces a non-formal learning tool for fostering a sense of entrepreneurship and creating one's own circumstances instead of waiting for an opportunity.

The aim of the project is to train social and communication skills of youth workers and to empower them to use improvisational theatre as an innovative tool to increase the sense of youth entrepreneurship. We will train soft skills, explore taking risks, creativity, problem-solving, how to welcome mistakes and other essential skills for young entrepreneurs. We will also reflect on the regional cooperation between the involved countries, focusing on how to increase the chances of youth entrepreneurship.

the aim >> to increase the capacity of youth workers by enriching their working methods with improvisational theatre by offering activities that better respond to the challenges of young entrepreneurs to improve the sense of initiative and entrepreneurship of youth workers to develop communication skills of youth workers through improvisational theatre to provide a platform for sharing best practices focusing on using non-formal educational methods in the field of youth work to foster youth entrepreneurship

Implementation

The project will be practical, active and experiential as well as theoretical. The aim is to equip each partner with necessary tools and knowledge needed to be used and disseminate the gained knowledge within their organizations. By doing so, each partner will contribute to the inclusion of the underprivileged youth in their country.

This training is for you if you...

- >> are a youth worker, youth leader, trainer, mentor, member or volunteer of youth organizations.
- >> work with youngsters on local, national or/and international level
- >> are eager to learn something new, contribute your experience and knowledge
- >> are playful, active and simply believe in the power of non-formal education
